GOVERNMENT AFFAIRS · WASHINGTON, DC

Federal funding and advocacy for California municipalities and special districts

Who We Are

Kiley & Associates is a Washington, DC federal advocacy and government relations firm founded in 2009. We represent cities, special districts, and public agencies before Congress and the federal agencies, turning local priorities into federal dollars. We have deep expertise supporting special districts such as water, fire protection, resource conservation, and mosquito and vector control districts. We are high-touch and outcome-driven, with active relationships across House and Senate appropriations offices.

What We Do

Federal Funding

We identify, pursue, and secure federal funding through Community Project Funding (CPF), Congressionally Directed Spending (CDS), and competitive grants across every relevant agency. From earmark strategy through committee advocacy to final award, we manage the full funding lifecycle.

Direct Advocacy

We serve as your direct line to Washington. When a project stalls or an issue lands at a federal agency, we engage the right office, such as DOT, EPA, or the Army Corps of Engineers, and any other agency where the problem sits, to cut through the delay and resolve it on your behalf, pressing your case with the people who can act.

Government Intelligence

We monitor, analyze, and distill Washington developments across legislation, regulation, and emerging opportunities into actionable intelligence, so your leadership can act early and stay ahead of policy shifts.
